The junta here is hopeful of the result of the forthcoming action of the American expansionists which has been initiated by Carnegie.

Aguinaldo has proposed in all seriousness that Dr. Parkhurst be invited to investigate the American corruption in Manila.

URGENT ORDER TO ENLIST MEN. 30,000 for Field Service and 20,000 to Hold the Territory.

Washington, June 9.—[Special]—Make all enlistments you can—infantry, cavalry, light and heavy artillery—for the Philippines. Select men. Urgent.

This order was sent out by the war department Thursday to every recruiting officer of the army. They were sent after the receipt of a cablegram from Gen. Otis in which he said he would need 30,000 men for active military operations, and that all garrison forces must be in addition to the fighting force.

It is estimated that it will require from 15,000 to 20,000 men to hold the country after it has been taken, making a total of 50,000 troops for the Philippine service, which conservative army officers say is not enough. This will undoubtedly necessitate calling out 35,000 volunteers, which the president is reluctant to do.

After the dispatch from Gen. Otis was received there was a conference with Acting Secretary Meiklejohn, at which orders were given to recruit the army to its maximum strength. It was denied at the war department that this exceedingly significant dispatch was received, but it is known on indisputable authority that it was not only received, but was the subject of the conference between the president and Secretary Meiklejohn.

Gen. Otis also advised the war department the time had not yet come to enlist native troops, although about 200 Matabele have been enlisted, but they will be used as scouts.

If Gen. Otis receives the 50,000 troops which he now believes to be necessary there will be but 15,000 men left to garrison Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the United States, and it will be seen that this number will be insufficient, and the president will be forced to call for the 35,000 volunteers.

There may not be a regular call, but the recruiting officers will simply be instructed to enlist the men to form what will be known as the provisional army. This will not be a volunteer force similar to that furnished by the states, as the president, and not the governors of the states, will appoint the officers, and the regiments will be in no sense state organizations or representative of any commonwealth.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Hay has received from the civilian members of the Philippines commission their individual views regarding the war situation. They agree that the war must be continued by Otis in order to maintain our military prestige among the Filipinos and that coincidentally the natives must be taught the government's good intentions.

The messages from the commissioners show that the insurgent force is reduced to 10,000 men; that Aguinaldo is hesitating as to his future line of conduct, and that most of the natives owning property in the archipelago favor the enforcement by the United States of its sovereignty over the islands.

The commissioners are a unit on the following propositions, instructions in accordance with which were sent to Gen. Otis and President Schurman several days ago:

1. That the natives appreciate the military superiority of the American troops, and that it is desirable to continue the use of force in such manner during the rainy season as to keep alive the fear which the operations of Otis' command have created.

2. That it is desirable in the interest of the early establishment of peace that no opportunity should be lost to educate the natives, as the commission has done in the past, in order that they may understand the beneficent intentions of this government.

Gen. Otis will continue his operations, and continued success on the part of the American troops during the rainy season will, the officials believe, have the effect of making the insurgents too tired and apprehensive to withstand the vigorous assaults which will be made when the dry season begins.

IN READINESS FOR BIG FIGHT

Battle Tonight for World's Championship.

CONTESTANTS ARRIVE IN EXCELLENT CONDITION.

Betting on the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries Mill is 2 to 1 in Favor of the Australian—The Sale of Tickets This Morning Amounted to About $70,000—Arrival of Out-of-Town Admirers Lends a Spirit of Activity to All Sporting Quarters—The Western Man Tips the Scales at Just 223.

New York, June 9.—[Special]—All is in readiness for tonight's great battle between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries for the world's championship.

A complete test of the building and appliances necessary to a successful bringing off of the fight and the taking of pictures, was made this morning and everything was found in perfection.

Fitzsimmons arrived at 7 o'clock this morning and after reading the papers lolled around his training camp.

He will take a drive and nap this afternoon and go to the club house at 9 o'clock tonight.

Betting has shown a decided impetus today and the arrival of out of town sports has lent a spirit of activity to all the sporting quarters.

Fitzsimmons is still a two to one favorite. The sale of tickets this morning amounted to about $70,000.

Jeffries at Asbury Park. Asbury Park, June 9.—[Special]—Jeffries and party left for Coney island this morning. Jeffries carried his own trunk down stairs and placed it on a truck.

He conversed with a party on the porch and told some funny stories, and sang several rag time songs and danced a clog.

Some one asked him what he thought of the fight.

He answered by saying that he never thought of it before boarding the train. Jeffries jumped on the scales and tipped them at two hundred and twenty-two and said he would "strip" at about two hundred and fifteen.

New York, June 9.—Tonight, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, Robert Fitzsimmons, the champion pugilist of the world, and James Jeffries, the gigantic Californian, will meet in the ring of the Coney Island Sporting club and settle their differences according to the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

In spite of the talk that the battle will be stopped by Chief of Police Devereux, it is confidently asserted by some of the big guns in Brooklyn political matters that Referee Siler will be the only official to put a stop to it.

The weights of the pugilists are being kept secret. Fitzsimmons is expected to weigh in at 165 pounds and Jeffries at 210.

Betting on the fight is generally at 2 to 1 on Fitzsimmons, but many bets have been made at 10 to 7, and in some cases the odds have been even less.

It is said that, despite the rumors to the contrary, Gov. Roosevelt will not be present at the battle. The governor denied that he accepted a box, although one was offered to him. When the governor was a police commissioner he was an advocate of the sport, defining it as a healthy, manly exercise. The governor further said that he would not interfere and that no request had been made to take action. He seems to think the police authorities are competent to deal with the affair satisfactorily, and that in any event the responsibility for the proper enforcement of the law rests with them.

The dimensions of the fighters are given officially as follows:

Fitzsimmons.	Jeffries.
5 ft. 11 1/2 in.	Height.....6 ft. 1 1/2 in.
13 1/2 inches	Calf.....17 1/4 inches.
20 inches	Thigh.....25 1/2 inches.
82 inches	Waist.....34 1/2 inches.
41 inches	Chest.....41 inches.
15 inches	Neck.....17 1/4 inches.
14 inches	Biceps.....16 inches.
About 165 lbs.	Weight.....About 210 lbs.

TO EXTEND WATER MAINS AT CLINTON

VILLAGE BOARD APPROPRIATES NECESSARY AMOUNT.

Streets to Be Improved and Drinking Fountains to Be Erected—Remains of J. Elliott Interred—Mr. and Mrs. Brownell Celebrate Wedding Anniversary—Personal News.

Clinton, June 9.—The village board at its meeting Monday evening voted $400 to lay water mains on Maple avenue. The work will be pushed at once. The committee on streets will expend $500 in making improvements. The construction of drinking fountains has been left to the waterworks committee, who will see that suitable places for obtaining water are provided. The funeral services over the remains of the late J. Elliott were held Monday forenoon, Rev. W. P. Leek officiating. The interment was at his former home in Illinois. Deceased was in the 80th year at the time of his death having been born at Windham, Maine, Nov. 16, 1819. There was a very pleasant surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brownell, Monday evening, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Comrade W. H. Gilbert, of this village, has something of a war history as the following from the "Church Record," printed here, will show: "Gilbert was in no less than six southern prisons during the rebellion. He has a novel watch chain that he made in Libby in the fall of 1863. It consists of eleven pieces of bone, each one-half inch square and about one-sixteenth of an inch thick. The blocks were made from beef bones, and the tools used were a saw, made from a case-knife, a file, a brick dug out of the wall of the prison, and a jack-knife. The bone was first sawed into blocks, then rubbed down to proper thickness on the brick, next they were shaped with knife and file, and a letter carved on each, spelling together the words 'Libby Prison.' Holes were drilled in the corners with a needle, and the separate pieces riveted together with pins picked from the prison floor. It took over five weeks to complete the chain." Dr. Burlingame, father of Mrs. M. M. Murray is spending a visit here. H. E. Edwards, of Whitewater, has bought and shipped from here several carloads of hay within the past few days. Winter Northrop shipped a fine Jersey heifer to a northern party last week. His herd originated from a celebrated eastern stock farm where he purchased a fancy bred cow several years ago. Several teams have been kept busy for a week past hauling crushed rock with which to repair highways adjacent to our village. The roads north and south of town and the "Lake Shore" road have received a liberal application. Miss Clara Wood received last week a check for $2,000, from the secretary of the local M. W. A., the same being the amount of her late husband's policy in that society. Mrs. J. R. Pope was here recently, having returned from an extended visit in the south. Mrs. Daniel Shimeall was up from Chicago for a visit recently. Ramsey and Robert Klingbale have fresh paint on their houses. H. E. Edwards had the misfortune to step on a nail Wednesday, and has a very sore foot as the result. Miss Mary Coss started for her home in Dakota Wednesday night, after an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Truman Andrew. Warren Haskin expects to move to Janesville next fall. A game of base ball is scheduled for June 17 between the Cuban Giants and the Chicago Cubs, at Evansville. Decoration day exercises here were very nicely carried out. Much credit is due the children for the way they took their parts. We must not forget to say one word for the phonograph. It was quite a feature of the program. The work on Mr. Draht's house is going on rapidly. When completed it will be one of the finest houses in town. Dell Townsend is the first to set tobacco, having transplanted some Thursday. W. B. Glen Addie, the twelve-year-old son of George Addie, was the victim of a bad accident Thursday morning. A horse stepped on his leg, breaking it at the ankle and cutting it badly. Dr. Hull reduced the fracture. Mr. and Mrs. Addie were both at Oshkosh when the accident occurred.

No one was aware until Tuesday afternoon that Milton had a ball team, but before the home team had finished using the whitewash brush on the Richmond farmers the crowd found out all about it. Say! the Miltonians were right in it for nine consecutive innings and despite the fact that the nine had never played before in the same positions, had never even practiced together or even had a game with any club, they shut out the visitors by a score of 18 to 0. The home team made some hair raising double plays and hit both Ryan and Alkin hard. Crandall and Place did the battery work for Milton and "Pooley" had the Richmondites on the string from start to finish. Clem W. Crumb did the umpiring. The following composed the Milton team: Place, catcher; Crandall, pitcher; Holmes, 1b.; Godfrey, 2b.; Ernie Greene, 3b.; Ed Greene, s. s.; Alex. Paul, r. f.; Vandewalker, c. f.; Palmer, l. f.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM AFTON

Commence Work of Rebuilding Bridges Recently Destroyed.

Afton, June 9.—Chairman Miller and Supervisor Rehfeld have begun the work of rebuilding the bridges destroyed by the big fire of last Friday night and are assisted in the work by George P. Powers and George W. Robb. Four bridges are to be rebuilt, one at the east side river road near the P. S. El dred farm, two on the west side Janesville road and one in the northwest part of the town near the residence of Benjamin Bleasdale. The supervisors have secured a pile driver and will use it in the reconstruction of all the bridges. Chairman Miller thinking that a pile bridge stands a better show in a deluge like that of Friday night than a structure whole or in part of masonry, and he has good reason for thinking so, inasmuch as two of the bridges destroyed had been only recently constructed, one of them being a solid stone arch in which 132 cords of stone were used, while the other rested on stone abutments, and of all this work scarcely one stone was left on another to show where the bridges had stood. Children's Day exercises will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday morning in place of usual services. Afton sent a large delegation down to Beloit last Thursday to participate in the big Woodmen picnic festivities. Afton Camp turned out well and many favorable compliments were heard regarding the good showing made by 2,192 in the parade. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Antisdell left for their home at Fostoria, Iowa, last Wednesday evening, after a few weeks spent with relatives here. A new windmill has been erected at the home of W. J. Miller, replacing the one blown over and destroyed recently. The new structure has been well anchored and, it is calculated will withstand a severe wind storm.

Chicago Live Stock Report.
Chicago, June 8.—Trade in cattle had rather sluggish current today, values holding right at the reduced level of Wednesday's sales, and prices for hogs were at the level of later sales the day before, the average standing fully 5c lower. Sheep and yearling stock sold more readily than earlier this week, but values for such stock show barely a quotable gain, while spring lambs sold quickly at 50c advance on the reduced prices quoted yesterday. Today's receipts are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs and 6,000 sheep.

WOODMEN ELECT OFFICERS.

Northcott Again Head Consul—Rain Mares the Day's Program.
Kansas City, Mo., June 9.—Heavy clouds overhung the city and a drizzling rain drenched decorations, profusely strung from building to building, on Thursday, the promised great day of the biennial meet of the Modern Woodmen of America. Despite the rain the Woodmen lined up for parade practically on time, and the round of the principal streets was made. Probably 8,000 men were in line. National officers for the ensuing two years were elected during the day. With but two exceptions, all of the old officers were re-elected. William A. Northcott, Illinois, is head consul.

In the afternoon, when William J. Bryan was introduced at convention hall, he faced 10,000 persons, while several thousands were unable to gain admittance. Mr. Bryan's speech was devoid of politics and was repeatedly interrupted with applause. Others who spoke were Head Consul Northcott and General Attorney J. G. Johnson of Kansas.

Sternberg to Physicians.
Columbus, Ohio, June 9.—Surgeon-General George M. Sternberg, U. S. A., read a paper at Thursday's session of the American Medical association on "Sanitary Lessons of the War." Gen. Sternberg said: "As compared with the civil war and with other great wars during the present century, the mortality from wounds and disease among our troops during the war with Spain was low. Our wounded to a large extent had the advantage of prompt treatment with antiseptic dressings, and a very considerable portion of those who were not killed outright have recovered without any mutilating operation or septic complication. The mortality from disease was also comparatively low."

Dr. W. W. Keene, Philadelphia, was elected president of the association. The next meeting will be held at Atlantic City, N. J.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last year had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had a good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by People's Drug Co.

Payment of Cubans Continues.
Havana, June 9.—The payment of the Cuban troops continues in a most satisfactory manner. At Matanzas on Thursday 178 men were paid, being as many as the paymasters could deal with. So many men are awaiting payment that Col. Randall telegraphed for more money, and the transport Burdette sailed to deliver $80,000 to him.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine, but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grain, and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

PLANTS TIRE OF MONOTONY.

Fame Awaits the Man Who Can Fathom the Reason.

Of late years much has been learned of the manner in which nature works, but the amount of secrets which nature has carefully locked up is vast in proportion greater than the little scraps of knowledge we have been able to secure, says Meehan's Monthly. But variation in one of those mysteries yet unsolved. It is not an uncommon thing to find a plant or tree, which for years has borne flowers or fruit according to rule, as one might say, all of a sudden send out branches of a character often widely different from that of those which have preceded them. It is more remarkable, as a fact, that when these different branches are cut from the parent tree and rooted as cuttings or preserved by grafting, this wandering from the original form continues hereditary, and can be reproduced innumerable, just as the parent plant can. Many new roses have been raised in this way. Some of them have been of the most distinct character. In fact, those who watch for these variations, or, as they are technically called, sports, can secure as many new varieties as those who look for new variations from seedlings. Fruit trees are especially subject to these variations. Sometimes a pear tree will have a branch with fruit which looks as if they might be apples, and again apple trees have been known to produce pear-like fruit. Not only is this difference in form, but also in color. Plum trees that for years will bear nothing but the normal purple-fruited plums, will send out branches occasionally with yellow-colored plums instead of egg-shaped, purple ones. One of the most striking instances of this is in the case of the nectarine. A well-informed biologist simply says he does not know what causes these wild wanderings from normal forms—he merely tells the student there is a chance for him here in original investigation which may bring you fame if you work out the cause.

Daring Feat of Bandits.
Cheyenne, Wyo., June 9.—The Union Pacific train robbers are still at large, with the posse in close pursuit. The robbers swam Powder river. The stream is a raging torrent, and how the outlaws escaped death is a mystery. Owing to this daring feat, the bandits gained several hours on their pursuers. Re-enforcements have reached the posse, and the capture of the robbers seems certain. The funeral of Sheriff Hazen, who was killed by the bandits, was held Thursday and was largely attended.

McKinley's New England Trip.
Washington, June 9.—The itinerary of the president's New England trip is almost completed. He will leave here on Friday, June 16, for Holyoke, Mass. On Monday he will go to Northampton to attend the Ivy day exercises at Smith college, and on Tuesday to South Hadley to attend the graduating exercises at Mount Holyoke seminary. On Wednesday he will go to Springfield, and on Thursday to Adams, Mass. Mrs. McKinley will accompany the president.

Will Leave It to Congress.
Washington, June 9.—Secretary Long has passed upon the armor bids submitted recently, deciding to purchase a small quantity of Harveized armor at $400 a ton, and to let the next congress decide what shall be done toward securing the remainder needed for the armored ships already authorized.

Kissing a Civilized Custom.
Among the aboriginal tribes of America and Central Africa kissing was unknown, though from the most remote times it has been familiar to Europeans and Asiatics. The Latins made three distinctions in kissing—the osculum being the kiss of friendship and respect, the basium that of ceremony, and the suaviolum that of love. The Semite races used to kiss, and we find that the "kiss of peace" formed a part of the sacred rites of the early Christians, as it does of the Greek church at the present day. The Mongolian kiss differs from ours, and the lips of the kissers do not come into contact with one another. In kissing a person it brings the nose into light contact with the hand, cheek or forehead; the breath is drawn in through the nostrils, and the act terminates with a slight smacking of the lips. The Chinese regard our mode of kissing as quite horrible, while we are so well satisfied with it that we have no desire to take lessons in the art from them.

Development.
"Who do you think is greater?" said the earnest young woman who is studying music; "the person who creates a great work or the person who interprets it?" "Well," answered Col. Stillwell, "I can only say this much: When I was in the legislature we could get up all kinds of acts, but we never knew what was in 'em till after the lawyers took hold of 'em in the regular course of business."—Washington Star.

Washington, June 9.—The president has approved an amendment to rule 6 of the civil-service rules, excepting from examination one assistant postmaster or chief assistant to the postmaster at each postoffice. This position had been excepted prior to the issue of the president's recent order and was overlooked in the drafting of the order.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1792—John Howard Payne, dramatist and author of "Home, Sweet Home," born in New York city; died 1852.
1811—Samuel Johnson, born in Litchfield, Mass.; died 1850; known as "Samuel Johnson," the poet.
1870—Charles Dickens, novelist, died at Gad's Hill, in Kent; born in Portsmouth, England, 1812. Dickens began life as a lawyer, but soon abandoned that profession for that of a press reporter. His first literary work appeared in the London Morning Chronicle in the form of sketches. The sketches afterward became noted and passed through many editions. The "Pickwick Papers" followed and established Dickens' reputation.
1890—Disaster at Ford's old opera house, Washington, where Lincoln was assassinated.
1894—Cyrus West Field, son and namesake of the cable projector, died in New York city, from 1857.
1897—Professor Alvan Clark, famous telescope manufacturer, died in Cambridge, Mass.

CLASS TO BE PROUD OF

Janesville may well be proud of the graduating classes of the Janesville High school. Instead of hearing simpering girls and diffident boys stumble clumsily through tiresome essays—as was formerly the rule—people who attended the commencement exercises saw self possessed and self reliant young men and young women who talked understandingly on topics of real interest. In no way could the thoroughness and scope of the Janesville schools be better shown. The pupils are not only educated, but they are taught to use their education. The young man who receives a diploma from the High school has learned much that is not in his books. He has learned to address an audience without "stage fright," he has learned how to think and reason for himself; he has learned that it is better to spend his spare moments at the work bench, or on the athletic field, rather than in loafing about with a cigarette in his mouth; he has learned to be a man while acquiring the knowledge that a man needs. Not only has he mastered his books but he has mastered himself. "How to keep the boys in school" has always been a problem. But it no longer perplexes Janesville people, for the boys are as interested in their school work as are the girls; and if the young men keep in the path in which they have grown up, there is no doubt as to their future. They have been started on the road that leads to success—mental, physical and moral.

The credit for the high character of the Janesville schools, belongs largely to one man—Professor D. D. Mayne. He is the guiding spirit; he is the master mind. His ability as a teacher and his sterling qualities as a man are reflected by every pupil who finishes the course. Janesville people fully appreciate these facts, and the modest superintendent would doubtless be much embarrassed if he should hear all that is said by citizens all along this line. Janesville has many things to be proud of, but the city schools must come first. They are our "greatest glory," and that they may be kept abreast of the times in every respect is the earnest wish of all the parents who care for the future welfare of their children.

The Racine Journal speaks sensibly when it says: "The custom of thanking juries for their verdict has been sat down upon by one judge, as a custom wholly indefensible and one to be sternly rebuked by the trial judge. It is not only senseless but highly inconsistent with the orderly court of justice, and an encouragement to juries to waive the law and evidence. Surely the judges do not thank juries for verdicts which punish guilty men, and equally so juries should not be publicly thanked for their judgments of acquittals."

Burglars backed a wagon up to a grocery store in Marinette, and stole the whole stock. Marinette people should borrow a Janesville policeman for a few days and find out where its own force is at.

Having worked for many years at the barber's trade, Commissioner William Mason should be an expert in the matter of shaving the weeds from the face of mother earth.

They Walk on Stilts.

Many of the people in the western portion of the French province of Gascony walk on stilts. That district is known as the Landes, with a sea line bounding the French side of the Bay of Biscay, and extending, at its greatest breadth, about sixty miles back into the country. Most of them are shepherds, and they elevate themselves on stilts five feet high in order to be above the marshes and the sand blasts.

A London Marriage License.

The cost of the ordinary marriage license in London is £2 2s 6d. Surrogates in the country charge a little more. The church at which it is intended the ceremony shall be performed must be named in the body of the license. The day is a matter of arrangement with the clergyman. The license endures for three months from the day of obtaining it.

THROUGH FREIGHT
FOOLED ROBBERSCLOTHING STOLEN BETWEEN HERE AND EVANSVILLE.

Thieves Threw the Goods Off at the Cut-Off City, and a Railroad Man Gathered Up the Stolen Property—Police Here Working on the Case.

Thieves who tried to rob a freight car on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad between this city and Evansville Tuesday night and of which a brief account appeared in The Gazette last Wednesday, were foiled because the train did not stop at Evansville as they thought.

It seems that some thieves broke into a car on the time freight somewhere between Janesville and Evansville. They took the contents of a case of clothing, did it up in bundles, and as the train approached the double track at Evansville they threw the bundles from the car evidently expecting to get out themselves when the train stopped at the switch as most all trains do. But for this time freight, it is arranged so that the man at the Evansville pump house throws the switch letting it onto the double track without a halt in the speed. And so it happened that the thieves after pitching their booty out of the car had to wait till the train arrived in the Madison yards before they could get out of the car.

In the meantime the switch-tender at Evansville had discovered and secured the bundles of clothing. When the yardmen at Madison discovered the car open they discovered the loss of the property.

The police between here and Madison have been notified and are keeping a sharp lookout.

During the cholera epidemic of 1892, Hamburg had 18,000 cases, with 7,614 deaths, while Atlanta had only 556 cases, though it gets Elbe water. The difference between the two cities was that Atlanta had a filtration plant and Hamburg drank the water from the river unfiltered.

The saying is an old one but nevertheless a true one, "the best is always the cheapest." It has been proven true in Bicycles to a very great extent. People who bought "cheap" wheels last season and the year before are investing in good wheels this year. Too much expense in repairs, too hard running, in fact entirely worn out.

Graduating Exercises Closed with Another Interesting Program—President Mout, of the Board of Education, Addresses the Class—School Given a Picture—Alumni Tonight

Last evening at Myers Grand the largest class in the history of the Janesville High school bade farewell to the books and bells of the local institutions of learning and by mental labors successfully closed the prescribed four years' course in a manner that reflects credit upon themselves and their teachers. The class is composed of seventy-four young ladies and gentlemen who are worthy of congratulations. Long before the hour appointed for the exercises to begin last evening, every seat in the opera house was occupied, hundreds were standing in aisles and many less fortunate were obliged to return to their homes.

The program was a highly interesting one. The musical portion of the program was so heartily enjoyed that every number was encored. The Oriental Male Quartette sang "Farmer Slow," "Spin, Spin," "Absence," "Little Tommy," "Vesper Song" and "Nelly." The program opened with a well prepared thesis by Nellie L. Van Beynum on "Value of the Classics," recommending that more time be devoted to languages and relating the value of the translation of other languages.

Rose Gagan presented a thesis on "Consolidation of Rural Schools." The subject is self explanatory. Miss Gagan presented some very practical ideas.

The "Class Poem" by Imogene McDonald furnished much merriment for the audience. It was well written and contained many humorous hits on the members of the class.

The oration "Moral Courage" by Minerva M. Fisher was an effort well appreciated. Her delivery was excellent and arguments convincing.

The subject of Charles B. Woodstock's thesis was "Manual Training," which explain the excellent work accomplished in this department of the school. His thesis was illustrated with the work carried on by the students.

The declamation, "Jud Brown" and Rubenstein, by J. Thomas Hogan, delighted them and his effort was a surprise to the audience, which would not be satisfied until the young man returned and bowed his recognition.

"Wireless Telegraphy" was the subject of an interesting thesis explained by Angelo E. Shattuck and W. Edward Behrendt. An explanation and illustration of this new wonder could not help but interest all and the young men proved their statements beyond a shadow of doubt.

Henry F. Carpenter's subject was "Theodore Roosevelt," which he handled in an able manner. He delivered his praises with much force and at the close of his words the audience testified their appreciation.

Kathryn Isabelle Fenton gave "A Tribute—Eugene Field." It was well written and the delivery was excellent. Her effort was fully appreciated by the audience.

The "Presentation of Token" by Levi G. Ross was a number which proved interesting. In behalf of the class of '99 Mr. Ross presented the High school with a large colored reproduction of Guido Reni's matchless "Aurora." The picture is handsome and will be a credit to the school. Mr. Ross was highly praised and liberally applauded.

P. J. Mout, president of the board of education, then presented the diplomas with appropriate remarks, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the class.

Rose Mary Enright responded for the class, thanking the board of education and the citizens of Janesville in a very able manner. In the "Closing Address" she also spoke of the important significance of the diplomas, of the debt which scholars owe their parents, their teachers and the citizens.

Rev. A. C. Kempton, pastor of the Baptist church, pronounced the benedictory prayer.

The class song, composed by Nellie Martha Hubbard, and singing by the class, closed the program.

After the closing of the exercises, the members of the class were the recipients of hearty congratulations from their friends, which closed the happy commencement of '99.

HOTEL BILL MADE COUNTY BOARD MAD

FIFTY CENT MEALS MUCH TOO HIGH.

County Jurors Are Altogether Too Stylish To Suit the Supervisors—Twenty-Five Cent Meals Good Enough—Hotel Myers Will Bring Suit—Committees Appointed.

Members of the Rock county board of supervisors in session today spent a goodly portion of the afternoon wrangling over the question of whether or not fifty cents each was too much for the Hotel Myers to charge the county for meals served county jurors.

At the last sessions of the Rock county circuit court the members of the jury in session at meal time have been going to the Hotel Myers for their meals which was charged to the county.

When Landlords Johnson and Stevens sent the board at their last meeting a bill for $39 for meals served jurors at 50 cents each, several members of the board complained, which resulted in cutting the bill down to $27.30.

Johnson & Stevens would not accept this and began legal proceedings against the board.

At the session this afternoon the question was brought up, several members stating that they thought that 35 cent and even 25 cent meals were good enough.

A motion was made by Supervisor Gettle and adopted instructing District Attorney Jackson to make a settlement with the hotel proprietors as soon as possible.

Little business of importance outside of the appointment of standing committees for the ensuing year was accomplished today and at 4 o'clock the board adjourned until the fall meeting.

CELEBRATION NOW CERTAIN

Committees Make Good Progress, But More Funds Are Needed.

Our public spirited citizens, who have the matter of the celebration of the anniversary of the nation's independence in charge, are meeting with great encouragement and the glorious achievements of our nation seems to have kindled the spark of patriotism in the breasts of our citizens to the extent that they are subscribing quite liberally to the fund for this event.

A meeting of the committees in charge was held in the vacant store in the Jackson block last evening.

William G. Wheeler and Thomas S. Nolan were appointed on the executive committee in place of George H. Osgood and Colin C. MacLean who declined.

John M. Whitehead reported that Congressman Cooper would be unable to be present. He had written to Judge Orton but as yet he had received no reply.

The parade will be made an important feature of the day and an effort will be made to secure some of the paraphernalia of the Milwaukee carnival which takes place this month.

There will be plenty of amusements and the decorations of the city will be most elaborate.

It will be necessary to have $1,000, and so far the amount raised is $787.

The advertising committee will see that the affair is properly advertised.

The members of the executive committee will meet this evening at the office of Dunwiddie & Wheeler in the post-office block.

We have all of the advantages under the sun and none of the disadvantages. This is a moral, religious and temperate community. I assure you that the whole city is yours. I give it to you absolutely. For the next three days I resign my position as mayor. I will dissolve the common council. Again, I bid you welcome to our city and tell you that there is absolutely nothing which we have that is not yours if you wish it.'"

"The mayor told the truth. Oshkosh entertained us in splendid style, and no mistake."

JOHN M'ELROY WRITES HOME

Had a Most Pleasant Voyage Across the Pacific Ocean.

John McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McElroy, of this city, writes an interesting letter home from Manila.

Mr. McElroy left San Francisco on the United States transport Charles Nelson on April 28, and after a pleasant voyage arrived in Manila the evening of May 3.

The entire voyage was made without a mishap. The sea was calm, the evenings cool and the days warm.

On arriving in Manila Mr. McElroy and others assigned to hospital duty, were obliged to march an hour and a half before reaching their hospital, which was formerly occupied by the Spaniards and which is now sheltering 1100 patients.

The first night Mr. McElroy says he spent in fighting mosquitoes, also that the accommodations as a general thing are not to be complained of.

Assistant Secretary Taylor Will Not Locate the Janesville Postoffice Until After the Report of That Official Is Filed with Him—All Will Be Heard.

No decision will be made in the matter of the Janesville post office site until some time next month.

Assistant Secretary Taylor, of the Treasury Department, writes that the supervising architect is going to Minnesota in July to select sites for public buildings in that state, and Assistant Secretary Taylor has directed him to stop at Janesville, look over the ground, and submit a report.

"I shall not decide upon a location" Mr. Taylor says, "until his report is before me. The people will be notified when the architect will be there, so that all persons interested can be heard."

Mr. Taylor has received many letters from Janesville people concerning the sites offered, but the correspondence only makes work for his department, and can do no good, as the report of the supervising architect will decide the matter.

A Cold Storage Advantage

Our big cold storage in the stone basement will hold a carload of goods. During the summer all our dried fruits, smoked meats, surplus stock of fruit and vegetables, are kept at an even cool temperature in this mammoth box. Beside being fresh, the stock is away from flies, insects and dust. There is an advantage in trading at a store with these conveniences. It costs no more and in many cases much less and the service is certainly worth considering. Sanborn.

WAR APPEARS INEVITABLE.

But One Way to End the Difficulty in the Transvaal.

CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS OUT.

The Reply of the British Government to the Position of the Uitlanders. It Is Believed, Will Be in the Nature of a Warning to the Boers.

London, June 9.—The morning papers talk seriously of the possibility of war in South Africa.

Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, in his speech in the house of commons, announced that his reply to the petition of the uitlanders, which had been held back pending the result of the conference at Bloemfontein, would now be presented to the Transvaal. This reply is semi-officially described as "explicit, but conciliatory," but it is believed to be in the nature of a practical ultimatum. The resources of diplomacy are regarded as exhausted with the failure of the conference. Nothing is left, it is felt, but a recourse to force.

Joseph M. Francis Is Bishop.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The Rev. Joseph M. Francis, rector of St. Paul's church, Evansville, was elected bishop of the episcopal diocese of Indiana Thursday. The new bishop is 42 years old, and is a native of Philadelphia, Pa. He is a graduate of the theological seminary at Nashotah, Wis., and was for a time settled at Watertown in that state. He then became a missionary in Japan, where he remained ten years. In 1897 he returned to this country and was nominated for bishop of Tokyo, but was not confirmed, because the church did not have the funds with which to carry on the extended work that had been planned, and he was never consecrated. Since January, 1898, he has been rector of St. Paul's church, Evansville.

Adjournment Still Ajar On.

Lansing, Mich., June 9.—Another attempt to induce the house to fix a date for final adjournment before the senate acts upon the taxation bills now pending failed Thursday, the former body indefinitely postponing action on a resolution naming June 24 as the date.

The likelihood of the two houses agreeing on tax bills is more remote than ever. The senate committee on taxation has amended the house railroad tax bill by reducing the annual increase provided for from $500,000 to $300,000. The house, on the other hand, has rejected the senate amendments to its bill taxing express, telephone and telegraph companies.

Preparing for Resistance.

London, June 9.—The fact is plain that China is awake to the danger in which the empire stands of being parted among the colonizing powers. The recent dismissal of the foreign drillmasters in the imperial army, no less than the edicts that appear daily directing the strengthening of the various army corps, indicates the government's purpose to resist further foreign aggression, except on the part of Russia.

To Create Twelve Cardinals.

Rome, June 9.—It is officially announced that the pope, at a secret consistory on June 19, will create twelve Italian cardinals, including the nuncio at Madrid, the archbishop of Gorizia, the archbishop of Toulouse, the Latin patriarchs of Constantinople and Antioch and others.

Wants Reciprocity Treaty.

Washington, June 9.—The French government has taken steps to renew actively negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with the United States, and to that end has appointed M. Chapentier as special delegate to assist Ambassador Cambon in conducting the negotiations.

Gov. Mount Nearly Well.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The condition of Gov. Mount, who was suddenly stricken with pneumonia, is greatly improved, and his complete recovery is no longer in doubt. He still keeps his room, but transacted some official business Thursday, and may be able to return to his office at the state-house Saturday.

McKinley Invited to Illinois.

Davenport, Iowa, June 9.—The business men's associations of Davenport, Rock Island and Moline, have united in addressing an invitation to President McKinley, urging him to visit the cities during his western trip this summer.

LANDSLIDE IN ARKANSAS.

Twenty-Eight Laborers Reported to Have Been Killed.

ACCIDENT DUE TO HEAVY RAINS.

Ross Hollow, a Short Way East of Little Rock, the Scene of the Casualty—Disastrous Floods in Texas—Many Negroes Drowned.

Little Rock, Ark., June 9.—It is reported here that a landslide, due to heavy rains, occurred at Ross Hollow and buried twenty-eight men, all of whom are supposed to have been killed.

Ross Hollow is a pass between two small mountain ranges, about twenty-eight miles west of Little Rock, on the line of the Choctaw & Memphis railroad, now under construction from Little Rock to Howe, I. T.

A large force has been engaged in grading the road through the pass, and, according to the report, it was a part of this force of men who were caught under the falling earth.

The report cannot be confirmed. None of the officials of the road nor any of the contractors who are at present in this city have received news of the accident. The report was brought in by farmers traveling from the locality. The road to the scene of the accident is over a rough stretch of country and it is impossible to get news from there.

TWENTY-FIVE PERSONS DROWNED.

Floods in Texas, Caused by a Cloudburst, Do Immense Damage.

Austin, Texas, June 9.—The cloudburst of Wednesday, which swelled the rivers of this portion of the state out of their banks and caused a great loss of property, is much worse than reported. Many people are known to have perished, meager reports placing the number at twenty-five.

Thursday reports came from San Saba and Menardville, small towns ninety miles north of here, in the mountains, saying that both towns had been swept by the raging floods and were badly devastated. In San Saba eight people were drowned and the entire town is reported under water. The river at that point is one mile wide.

At Menardville thirteen houses were swept away. The river is reported as rising at both places and grave fears are entertained that the entire country in that neighborhood will be laid waste.

San Saba is located in a valley, and vast wheat fields are under water. These crops will prove a total loss. Many persons, according to reports received here, had difficulty in getting to high land before the rise came.

The situation at Menardville is even more serious. A small town located to the right and in the bend of the river in the valley, it proved an easy prey to the raging torrents. Seventeen persons are known to have been drowned there. Of these two were young white girls—Lydia and Anna Wells by name. The others were all negroes who were living in cabins close to the river front and were caught in the flood before they could make their way to safety, owing to the darkness of the night.

The property damage in and about San Saba and Menardville will exceed $100,000. Live stock suffered severely, hundreds of cattle and hogs having been swept away. The river, running as it does through a mountainous region at this point, rises very quickly and falls as rapidly. This particular rise was announced by a solid wall of water ten feet high, which swept everything before it.

Reports from Bastrop, thirty miles south of Austin, say several bridges have been wrecked by the rushing waters. The loss to farming lands south of here will represent another $100,000.

Cyclone in Oklahoma.

Wichita, Kas., June 9.—A severe tornado and destructive cyclone is reported from Grant county, Oklahoma. As the wires are down in that section, it is difficult to get news. Three persons are said to have been carried two miles in a hut and dashed to the earth, killing them instantly. Four or five others were injured fatally.

Enlistment in Regular Army.

Washington, June 9.—The war department has prepared a statement showing the number of enlistments in the regular army since the war began. At that time the army consisted of 25,000 men. The enlistments since that time have been about 75,000 men. This would make an army of 100,000, but there were a large number of enlistments made for service in the war with Spain alone, and these men have since been discharged.

SUNSET.

Lift up glad eyes from sordid things—
Lo, beauty flames afar!
Before the sunset glow pales
The brilliant evening star.

The autumn dyes have touched the hills
And kissed the valleys sweet,
And line on line in coming days
Their magic will repeat.

The sunset rays in rapture blaze,
The landscape glorify,
The gorgeous light deters the night
That day in hope may die.

Of roscate tints and colors rare,
Of blended shade and light—
Lo, gorgeous draperies decline,
Withdrawn by holy night!

So be my sun's decline at last,
When mortal strife is o'er,
To rise in radiance of hope,
On life's immortal shore.

MET THE DIFFICULTY

He Smashed the Piano, but
She Smashed His Heart.

"You understand that I expect you to look after my three rooms, sweep and dust and all that sort of thing?"

"Yes," remarked Mrs. Petersen, "I understand. The rooms suit me perfectly," she went on as they passed down stairs again, "and I shall begin to pack up tomorrow. It will be so nice to be able to turn around and not be always running into everybody. And now that Mr. Petersen's sister is living with us— Well, good day. The things will begin to come by day after tomorrow. Good day."

Theodore Foster stood looking after her a moment; then he went into the empty parlor and took the large "To Let" placard from the front window. He carried it up to his sitting room. "I hope it will be a long time before I have to see you again," he told it as he put it in his desk.

It was the first time for a month that he had felt really happy. During that time he had tried to get a tenant for his house, but had been unable to find a suitable one. It had been horribly lonesome coming home at night to a cold, echoing house. But now he would have the Petersens there, and he looked forward to day after tomorrow with joy. He used to know Joe Petersen, but he supposed he wouldn't see much of him, as Joe was away from home all the week. There were the children too. He was fond of children, even if he was an old bachelor. Then he remembered that the children must be nearly grown up by this time. Well, young people were almost as good as children.

It was the next day, while he was out taking his constitutional, that Everson saw him and crossed the street to speak to him. "So you have got the Petersens?" he said after they had walked a few blocks. "Well, there's only one thing about them that you won't like."

"What is that?" questioned Mr. Theodore.

"Their piano."

"Oh, I don't mind piano practice as some do," said Mr. Theodore easily. "In fact, I rather like it."

"You haven't lived over the Petersens yet?" said Everson sententiously. "You wait a little. It's an old piano that came over in the Mayflower—that is, if any pianos did come over then this is one of them. I could get more music out of brass kettles and tin pans. It's all out of tune, too, and, worst of all, they keep banging away on it all the time. In vacation it's something awful. There are three girls that take lessons, and they are bound to be playing, so they keep the old thing going about nine hours a day."

Mr. Theodore's face had lengthened during this description. "What makes them keep such an old trap?" he asked. "Well, you see, they're kind of poor, and they can't afford a new one."

Mr. Theodore walked moodily along after his friend left him. Then suddenly his face brightened. "I can fix it all right," he said and went on more briskly.

The next morning there was considerable grumbling from the two men who moved the Petersens because Mr. Theodore Foster insisted on helping.

He was especially troublesome about the placing of the piano. He insisted on having it on the very end of the load and tied it with his own hands. When the team started, he trotted along beside it, and they reached the house at the same time.

It was a raw morning, and the men were putting blankets on the horses, when suddenly there came a jangling crash. They hurried to the back of the wagon and found Mr. Theodore looking in horror and dismay at a very badly smashed piano. "It's all my fault!"—was all he managed to say before a torrent of abuse and curses loud and deep overwhelmed him.

Mr. Theodore went and told Mrs. Petersen about the accident, and after he had gone a loud wail arose from the three girls, but when the household effects were all moved and the Petersens themselves went to their new home there, in the parlor, was a beautiful, brand new piano.

They all stood in the doorway and stared in amazement.

"Mr. Foster had it sent," Aunt Sarah Petersen explained. She had been there attending to that end of the moving. "He said that as it was due to his carelessness that the other was wrecked he should take the liberty of sending for this one."

Maud, the oldest girl, went and tried the instrument. "Isn't it beautiful?" she cried rapturously.

Time went on, and the girls practiced diligently. Their aunt also took advantage of the chance to play, so that Mr. Theodore had all the music he wanted. The Petersens had been there two months, when one day Mr. Theodore asked Maud to go with him to the piano rooms.

"I want you to try them all," he said, "and see if there is one you like better than the one at home."

Maud tried them. "No," she declared, "there isn't one so nice."

"Are Isabel and Katherine satisfied with it?"

"Why, yes, indeed they are."

"By the way, won't you play that new waltz for me?"

She seated herself at the nearest instrument and began to play. When she had finished, she looked around, but Mr. Theodore was not beside her, as she had supposed. Instead she saw him at the far end of the room, coming toward her with a piece of paper in his hand. When he reached her, he passed her the paper. "A birthday present, my dear. I believe it is your birthday today."

Maud looked at the paper blankly. Then it dawned upon her that it was a bill of sale of the piano at home, made out in her name.

Maud never would tell her sisters what she did at that moment, but when she came home and told them about it they all declared that Mr. Theodore was "a dear."

"Don't you think it would be better for you to go out of doors more, Miss Sarah?" Mr. Theodore asked her one day. "I would be greatly benefited if you would accompany me on my daily walks. It is rather tedious going alone."

And so it became the custom for the old bachelor and the maiden aunt to walk out every day together.

But after a year of this Miss Sarah told him one day that she was going away for a six months' visit.

Mr. Theodore was filled with consternation at this and begged her to reconsider. He pleaded so earnestly and eloquently that she finally promised to stay away only two weeks and when she came back to "set the day."

That was the longest walk they had taken, and toward the end of it Mr. Theodore said: "My dear, there is something I have wanted to tell you ever since I have known you. It is about the piano."

"I don't think you will have to tell me now," she said. "I have known it all the time. I saw you do it."

"Saw me do it? Do what?"

"Cut the rope."

He stood still and looked at her.

"I was at the window. I had come over to see to things, you know, and I saw you take out your knife, step up to the hub of the wheel and cut the rope."

"And you never told!"

"No."

"Why not?"

"You see," she said confusedly, her color rising, "it flashed upon me at once what you did it for—that old piano, it was an instrument of torture!—and that was the beginning of the—of the end, I think."

He tried to look in her averted face. "I don't understand what you mean by the end."

She turned a radiant glance upon him. "Why, don't you see—today!"—Chicago Record.

Beauties of St. Bernard Pass.

The writer, in describing the perilous journey over the St. Bernard pass, in part says:

"We see a little trickle of water start from a snowbank and swell, fed by dashing streams, great and small. Some of these fall from heights a mile above us, tinkling and sparkling and hiding here and there, but finally reaching the valley. Pink crocuses star the fields, and barberry bushes, on fire with berries, line the wayside. The scenery grows richer; there are more cultivated fields; houses begin to appear on every ledge; now and then a fine tower of some medieval castle rose above the trees; then the silvery gray olive, the fantastic vineyards; the swarms of black eyed, dirty children begging; all tell of Italy. Under a burning sun and covered with dust we reach Aosta, tired and hungry, but rich in elevated thoughts, aspirations and pleasant memories of our varied and interesting experiences."—National Magazine.

Poetry, Painting and Furniture.

Rossetti insisted on every body painting. Books, he said, were "no use to a painter except to prop up models upon in difficult positions, and then they might be very useful." "If any man has any poetry in him," was another saying of Rossetti's, "he should paint, for it has all been said and written, and they have scarcely begun to paint it," a saying, by the way, which may be found also in the third volume of "Modern Painters." Morris obeyed the master and took to painting. Even when Morris took to making furniture that craft was at first regarded under Rossetti's influence as merely a means of providing spaces for pictorial decoration. Morris built some enormous chairs, "such as Barbarossa might have sat in," said Rossetti, who proceeded to paint their backs with subjects from Morris' poems.—London News.

What Is a "Sticket" Minister?

The sense in which "sticket" is applied to Dominie Sampson, where he is called in "Guy Mannering," chapter 3, a "sticket stibbler," is entirely distinct from that of "sticking or stabbing, with which it could never possibly be confounded by one familiar with the Scottish tongue. A "stibbler" was a harvester whose duty it was to keep in the wake of the reapers (in the days of the sickle) and cut or pluck and gather from the stubble what one another had left untouched. So a preacher, or a preacher without charge, preached variously as he could find opportunity, and if he never received a permanent appointment in the church, but lapsed into the melancholy monotony of a dominie's tyranny, he was as one that had failed or stuck—"a sticket stibbler" or "a sticket minister."—Notes and Queries.

Railway Postal Men Happy.

It was decided to assess each member of the association $1 for the purpose of raising money with which to pay the expenses of the legislative committee at Washington during the next session of congress. The convention is enthusiastic over the prospect of securing the passage of the reclassification bill by the next congress and with it a readjustment of pay. D. B. Henderson, the prospective speaker, was in charge of the measure in congress and was especially interested in the enactment of the law.

Modest Women

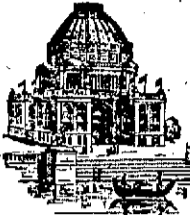

Modesty in women is no less a charm than beauty and wit. Is it any wonder that women afflicted with physical disorders peculiar to their sex shrink from personal examinations by male physicians? The weaknesses and irregularities of women may be recognized by certain unfailing symptoms. Backache, headache, bearing-down pains, irritability and extreme nervousness, indicate derangement of the delicate female organism. Bradfield's Female Regulator is the standard remedy for characteristic diseases of women. Sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

Cumulative Evidence

A proof of merit in any article is the amount of free advertising it receives. The universal success of Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic, is largely due to one person's telling another of the benefits derived from its use. It is sold in almost every city and town in the United States. Its purity and efficacy have given it the immense popularity it has attained. It is endorsed by thousands of physicians and patients. It makes strength. It gives vigor and health when every avenue of hope seems to be closed.

When you ask for Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic, do not be led into buying something else. Many imitations have recently appeared. Remember that Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic, was the only malt preparation declared perfect by the judges at the World's Fair, and alone marked with 100 points of perfection. The way to obtain the greatest amount of benefit for the least amount of money is to have your druggist deliver you a dozen bottles at a time.

SPECTRAL BELL.

That Alarms Sailormen Along the Coast of the Gulf.

The tolling of a spectral bell is one of the familiar superstitions of the sea, and especially is the illusion common along this section of the Gulf coast. What causes it nobody has ever learned, but there is hardly a luggerman from Mobile to the passes who has not, at one time or another, heard the sound. They describe the note as extraordinarily sweet and clear, rising and falling in solemn cadence and always seemingly close at hand. It is entirely different, they say, from any other noise of the ocean, and they scout the theory that it could possibly be produced by waves. "It isn't water," said an old seafaring man the other night, "and for that matter it's sometimes heard on land. I know, because I've listened to it myself. Back in '77, if you care to hear the story, I quit sailorizing for a while and went out west and tried mining. I had a partner named Whichey, and away up in the Sierra Madre range in North New Mexico we found an outcropping of rotten quartz that showed gold. It looked so good that we started to sink a shaft, although it was the most God-forsaken spot you ever laid eyes on. It was in a little canyon, a thousand miles from nowhere, ugly black peaks all around us, and lonely!—well, lonely is no name for it! One day, while Whichey was in the hole, and me at the windless, he heard the bell. It was clear as my voice, and seemed right over a mountain spur, where we knew there was no living being for three days' travel. It rang a while and then stopped. Next day it rang again, slow, solemn and plainer than ever. It was broad daylight, and that made the thing all the worse, which sounds funny, but it is true. We stood it four times, and then Whichey climbed out of the hole and said, 'Let's go.' I was willing. I believe we had a good thing, but that bell—it was too many for us! It makes my flesh crawl to think about it even now."

White Tiger.

A white tiger was shot lately in the Dibrugarh district of Assam, according to the Calcutta Englishman. He was nine feet long and in the prime of life. The Calcutta taxidermist who prepared the skin states that in 18 years he had never seen nor heard of such a thing as a white tiger.

Fashionable Jewels.

Green stones are said to head the list of fashionable jewels this season. Emeralds have the lead, but the revival of interest in green stones has prominently brought forward the peridot, which is really the Indian chrysolite, and is a clear deep leaf-green in color, showing almost yellow beside the emerald, which is bluish in tone.

The 'Perfect' Heating Furnace.

For Coal and Wood Fuel...

WITH POWERFUL HEATING REVERTIBLE FLUE RADIATOR.

This Heating Furnace has been especially made to fill a demand where either coal or cut wood can be used as desired. Heretofore Furnaces were only made for one kind of fuel and especially made for that single purpose.

Features are combined in this 'Perfect' Furnace that make it an exceedingly powerful, economical heating apparatus suitable for either fuel as is most convenient for the consumer. It is built low, suitable for any cellar. It will pay you to investigate the merits of this Furnace if you expect to put in a new heating plant.

The Best is Always The Cheapest.

This holds good in a Furnace as much as in anything else. A poor, cheap Furnace is the bane to any man's life. He pays almost as much for a half good heater as he would for a all cast Furnace, and in a few years different parts or the whole apparatus must be replaced.

Mueller Double Radiator,

Mueller's Cast Furnaces

Last a life time, are more economical in fuel, and will absolutely not escape gas. No bolts are used through out the Furnace. Fire pots are constructed in two heavy parts, allowing them to expand and contract at the very point where required.

Mueller Furnaces have many superior points over others—their being of cast iron adds weight and also extra heat. We have one set upon our floor so that you can see all about it.
